

Training courses

Gain an understanding of key trade and customs processes to grow your business and ensure you trade compliantly and with confidence

Moving goods using Transit

'Transit' procedures allow goods to be moved through multiple territories under duty suspension and without the requirement for customs declarations to be completed at each border.

This course introduces how Transit works and how traders can apply to use it.

It walks through how to use the New Computerised Transit System (NCTS) for submitting the information required to successfully utilise the procedure.
